FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF OCEAN BEACH, POINT LOMA, MISSION BAY AND MISSION BEACH

Twenty-second Year No. 23 | Phone Bayview 3157 | Friday, March 24, 1944 | Five Cents a Copy | Ocean Beach, California

COMMENT and RUMOR-

The city of San Diego has six months to start construction of the jetty at the entrance to Mission Bay channel if they wish to receive $50,000 toward this cost from the State Park commission, according to word sent here by J. H. Covington, secretary of the commission. Sept. 15th this particular $50,000 will revert to the state unless the important project has been started. The city has an equal amount appropriated and our citizens should call on the city council and city manager until we get action. The News understands our city manager does not particularly favor this project, which is the reason it is being held up so long.

Workers of Ocean Beach taking part in the American Red Cross drive for funds at this critical time are entitled to every commendation for their sincere endeavor. They are giving freely from their own purses as well as time and energy, the latter being an essential now that is most difficult to secure.

Our returns on the questionnaire "Do We Want Card Rooms?" shows only a limited interest in good government in this community, about the same per cent of returns as turn out to the polls to vote on election day. Out of the votes cast, 87½ per cent vote "no" on card rooms while 12½ per cent voted yes. The blank for your vote on the subject is being continued in this week's News.

The controversy on card rooms is just about like the controversy on smoking in street cars and buses. It seems now days, if allowed at all, smoking cannot be confined to the rear three seats because our public utility is so crowded there is no chance for the smoker to get to the rear end of the vehicle. This writer does not smoke but feels it would be pretty stringent to prohibit smoking altogether on the buses and cars in face of the most general use by women and men in the habit. If neighborly consideration was given by the smoker, of the person in the seat next to him or her, we feel there would be much less complaint than at the present time.

Hendricksons Buy Home On W. Pt. Loma Blvd.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hendrickson this week bought the residence at 4624 W. Pt. Loma blvd. where they will make their home, moving here from Pacific Beach where they have made their home since their marriage a few months ago. Mrs. Hendrickson is the former Jeannette Croft and her friends are glad to welcome her back to this community.

Give Liberally To the Red Cross In Critical Times

Nearly 10,000,000 American boys and men are in army or navy uniforms this year, as compared with fewer than 4,500,000 in service in 1942-43, and each of these is a potential ward of the American Red Cross, Donald E. Hanson, chairman of the San Diego Red Cross War Fund campaign, declared yesterday.

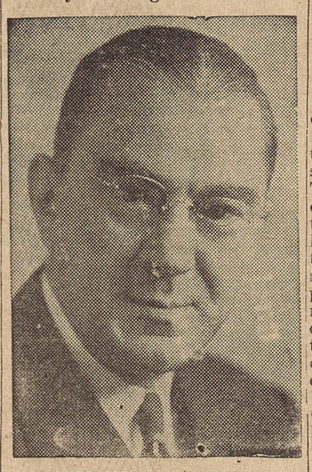
"This is a year of invasion for America," he asserted, "and invasion means lives lost and bodies shattered. Each battlefront casualty is a probable liability for the Red Cross, a liability which the organization gladly and tenderly accepts, for mercy is its business."

With the increase in casualties mounting steadily, the work of the Red Cross likewise is expanding, Hanson pointed out. Since Pearl Harbor, the organization has increased to 21 times its normal, peacetime size.

"Accordingly, the Red Cross must look to the citizen for greatly increased financial support," he stressed. "Therefore, this year we are asking each and every one to double, triple or quadruple his contribution of last year. We are asking citizens to give, that our fighters may live."

Fred Kraft Kiwanis Speaker Men Active in Red Cross Drive

Marc Strauss, live dealer of men's wear, was program chairman at Kiwanis dinner meeting Tuesday evening, livening up the meeting by assessing worthwhile fines of 50c to $5 per person, these later being turned into the American Red Cross, climaxing a drive in which members participated and collected $1587 up to Tuesday evening.



ASSEMBLYMAN KRAFT KNOWS STATE'S PRISONS

Fred Kraft, local business man and assemblyman of the 78th district, was a guest speaker, telling interesting visits he has made to the penal institutions of the state. San Quentin prison, Kraft said, is the largest in the world; Chino is a model prison farm, nd Folsom is the old type of prison with heavy granite walls built in 1879 by the prisoners then confined there and the rock quarried from nearby hills. In Folsom are the older, more hardened criminals, who are two time losers or more.

The speaker said a study showed murderers seldom commit more than one crime. Burglars and check writers are the ones who are most prone to err, and who return time after time to the "big house" many of them call home.

Warden Clinton T. Duffy of San Quentin was praised by Kraft for his intelligent handling of criminals and success in their rehabilitation.

Spring is here, let's get into the "sweep" and turn in the lap-robes, slippers, etc. that have been made.

With regard to the Easter cards, we regret to report that the response is not what we had expected. However, Mrs. M. Heidbrink, sector leader in AA has turned in nearly 100 cards, 12 games and various other articles. Why let only one sector get the credit?

May I appeal to you block leaders to make a special effort this week-end to get in these Easter cards? This is our last call. If each house were to give but one card, what a wonderful showing that would make for our district No. 7.

We are pleased to acknowledge receipt of a number of quilts, slippers, and a large box of various games and gifts all prettily wrapped from Mrs. H. Brewer, block leader in sector D. Also, Mrs. Stratton of sector AA, has turned in a number of good books and late magazines.

Why leave the work to a few sectors, let's all get into the swing.

Mail Rate Change Begins Next Monday

An important change in all U. S. postage rates will go into effect next Monday morning, or rather take effect on Sunday.

All local mail heretofore 2c will in the future be 3c, and the same rate will apply to all distant mail, there being no advance in this cost. Postal cards will remain at 1c. Insurance rates will be doubled and money order rates will be considerably higher with a minimum of 10c. The minimum at present being 6c.

Air mail letters will also advance in cost, the new rate to be 8c per ounce for regular domestic mail. Overseas air mail to service people, which has been 6c per ½ oz., will not be advanced in cost.

Families having army men or women in service will please be sure to have the A.P.O. number on their mail to facilitate delivery.

California Schools Collecting Double In War Job Training

STARTLING LAXITY IN STATE LAW REVEALED BY ASSEMBLYMAN BASHORE

"Adult education cost the state of California alone $5,203,080 for 1943-44, three and one-half times the $1,517,040 of state money spent in 1933-34," declared Lee T. Bashore, assemblyman, of Glendora, chairman of the subcommittee on school costs of the joint legislative committee on the state tax structure, reporting on his analysis of school district finance problems. Neither property tax monies raised by the local school districts nor funds received from the federal government are included in these figures, he pointed out.

"Particularly large increases in state costs for adult education have occurred for each of the last three years," Bashore stated. "These large increases are undoubtedly due to the war, for the public schools have done a splendid job in training industrial workers.

"However, the federal government has provided adequate funds to finance the cost of war training classes.

"Due to laxity in the state law, school districts conducting adult education war training classes have been able to get full compensation from the federal government for these classes and, in addition, have claimed and received state payments for adult education.

"Bonus payments for adult education amount to $5,900 per school maintained and pupil apportionments on the regular average daily attendance basis are also paid by the state. Bonus payments for adult education total $1,099,260 for the current year.

"Effect of the war is shown in the following trend in adult education costs to the state: 1939-40, $2,679,840; 1940-41, $3,010,500; 1941-42, $4,028,310; 1942-43, $6,045,930; 1943-44, $5,203,080.

"California school law should be tightened so that districts cannot receive double compensation for war training or other adult education classes," Bashore declared.

"In addition, greater equity demands that the provision for bonus apportionments, set up to encourage adult education, should be repealed and the funds for adult education be distributed on a pupil basis in proportion to average daily attendance. Bonuses have the effect of reducing the state money available for regular high school classes," he declared.

Retires After 22 Years Service

G. J. Kenline, 4931 Santa Monica ave., after 22 years of faithful service as general manager of Mount Hope cemetery, received his retirement on Wednesday, March 22.

Mr. Kenline, 72 years young, was never ill and never missed a regular work-day. He came here from Hampton, Ia., with his wife and family in 1912 and has resided in Ocean Beach ever since. Mr. and Mrs. Kenline have several rental properties, some lots, and own their home which they built a few years ago.

As an expert horticulturist the fruits of his labors will always remain at Mount Hope. A large vegetable garden and flowers abundant grow in the Kenline's back yard. In the front a shady nook, with daffodils, primroses and later tuber begonias in beautiful colors grow profusively.

Several Burglaries

Several more burglaries have taken place during the week in Ocean Beach the latest reported being Mrs. Inez E. Bina, 4959 Brighton ave., who reports the loss while shopping of a wallet containing $48 and personal papers. The articles were taken from her home while she was absent.

Monday night, some youngster it is believed, forced entrance through a window at the local library and 38c in book fine money seemed to be all that was missing.

At the Ocean Beach Grill, 2183 Bacon st., someone also broke in Monday night but the reported loss is less than $10 in change from the cash register.

Dearest Folks:

Another day just like the rest. Sure gets monotonous over here. There is going to be one happy kid, when I get home. I only hope I will be able to stay in one place.

We took some snapshots today. They have to be developed, and passed by the censor. I will send you some when I get them back. Get me all the 1x16 film you can. There are some beautiful cathedrals over here. So will take some of them.

Might go into London Monday. If I do will send you some postcards from there.

Well Sugar, will close for now. Write soon and Be Good.

Faith, Love and Kisses,
As ever,

JACK BAER WRITES MOTHER OF TOUGH TIMES IN PACIFIC

March 5, 1944.

Dear Mother:

Received your most welcome letter. Sure was glad to hear from you. I am fine as can be expected. Got back to the states a month ago today. The boat I got was the only one coming back to the states so I had to take it or else stay over. I had two days to get my papers made out for a R.I. post. What a trip. Coming on sea such a round-about way. Mother when we crossed the line of the American waters I wish you could have heard the crew. How glad our hearts were to see good old America. The greeting to each other seemed like Christmas. The people over here don't realize how lucky they are and not have to watch every minute for fear of being blown to bits and to see the suffering that is in the world. O' God bless our America.

What I have seen dear mother I will never forget. The folks over here should buy all the bonds they can buy. We want to clean up those dirty Japs off the globe. The only way they will get me back is to drag me. Twenty-two months is a long time to see such as I have seen. There were times when 36 hours was nothing to do without sleep. I was in six battles. The last one I was hurt and had to lay in a tent for seven weeks not knowing what minute I and the rest of the wounded would be blown to pieces. I felt your prayers mother, laying and listening to the moans and cries, calling on God to take them.

Well mother I will tell you some of the places I have been. Pearl Harbor first, Midway, New Guinea, Tulinga, all around the Solomon islands, even to Sidor and many other places. I will tell you more about it when I come home. I would love to see all of you. It will be a month's time before I will be able to get away so will close for this time.

LIEUT. de LYRE SAYS TEMPO NORMAL AT NEW GUINEA BASE

1st Lt. Wolf R. de Lyre
362nd Station Hospital
APO 503 c/o P.M. San Francisco

Dear Heber and Lillian:

Got your nice cheery letter about three weeks ago, I am ashamed not to have answered it earlier. I hope that by now you have heard from Austin, I guess the mail set-up is not always too good, specially around Christmas time we were getting very few letters.

All is going along well here, as far as I am concerned things have settled down to a normal tempo routine. I have lost lots of weight, 18 lbs. to be exact. What's more I seem to be still losing, I would hate to lose much more. Had malaria about a month ago, spent a week in bed but made an uneventful recovery and haven't had any further bad results as yet.

Well in a few more days I'll be five months overseas and truthfully to me it seems like years already. One wonder when one will ever get back. Guess you know how it feels for Austin probably has experienced similar sentiments. Still we're making progress on this side at least and we all feel optimistic about this theatre of the war. Many of us now feel that we'll be home ahead of the boys who went to Europe. Our slogan is Tokyo in forty-four, and I'll bet we'll give it a good go.

Otherwise no news in particular except that its hotter than blazes and the bugs down here drive one nuts.

I finally got two copies of the Ocean Beach News Dec. 3rd and Christmas edition. Say hello to the gang.

Your friend,
—DUKE.

Annual Charter Night For Scout Troop 28

Tonight, Friday, March 24th, 7 p.m. the Kiwanis club of Ocean Beach will present a new charter to Boy Scout Troop 28 at the Methodist church hut.

Martin E. Murphy, chairman Kiwanis boys and girls work committee, will preside. Presentation of charter will be made by Kiwanis club president, Glen Jones.

Inflation and Property

Roger Babson Says Real Inflation Will Not Come Until 1950-1955

—During World War I, prices of city real estate remained almost stationary; but between 1910-1920 the value of farm lands doubled. After the last war, we had from 1920-1926 a great industrial boom and city land prices greatly increased. Farm workers migrated to city industrial jobs at that time and farm prices dropped. This resulted in a tremendous slump in the value of farm land and lower crop prices.

During World War II prices for city rents have incerased about 8%; but with prices of agricultural products nearly 90% above prewar levels, we again have greatly inflated farm land values. Will history repeat, or reverse, the relative position of farm and urban property?

City Booms and Current Trends

Booms are usually preceded by a rise in the net income of real properties and a subsequent rise in the sales prices of existing buildings. This stimulates new building and is followed by a demand for vacant land or which to build new properties. There results an over-supply of homes, apartments, stores, hotels and offices. Rents fall and new construction no longer becomes profitable. The demand for land drops and sales prices fall. This is the real estate cycle.

In 90% of 280 cities, real estate prices have risen about 12% in the past two years. In Chicago, it is reported that apartment buildings increased in sales prices about $200 a room from 1936 to the middle of 1943. There has since been a further rise of 10% — 15%. Notwithstanding rent control, New York has seen a rising price for apartment buildings. In Boston, there is a great demand for these properties at prices well above conservative values. In Miami, for similar structures, prices have increased 25%—35% in the last three years.

What About Vacant City Land?

There has been very little price increase in vacant city land during World War II. Postwar demand for suburban home sites has increased slightly the price of land near some large cities. The fear of inflation has helped the sale of small farms but not yet the sale of city property. In most cities, the assessed value of land has not been sufficiently deflated from the peak prices of the 20's to warrant interest.

It takes a generation to recover from a collapse in city real estate such as occurred in New York from 1929-1932. Improved real estate—that is land with buildings — still sells at prices below the reproduction cost, less depreciation. Hence, no income is left for the land. As a result, there is no pressing demand for new city space which in turn would absorb land values and lead to a land boom.

Basis For a Real Estate Boom

A population rise might boom city real estate. However, the nation's rate of growth, and particularly urban population, has been falling. The trend to the suburbs should increase after the war. Improved transit facilities may result in suburban living outpacing residential growth in the cities.

Well-managed cities with efficient traffic controls, handy subways and honest assessments may see a rising demand for city homes. New domestic conveniences and an increase in domestic employees may help cities regain their popularity. City real estate has been so long depressed there may be a natural swing in the other direction; but I now see no convincing signs thereof.

After the War

Individuals concerned over the national debt and over the value of their savings, now totaling $50,000,000,000, may be drawn to tangible properties. This is now noted in the demand by city dwellers for small farms. City real estate may follow in turn. Much depends upon the people's attitude toward inflation. As a part of the inflationary process, city real estate may again boom; but John Q. Public has not yet got frightened.

I, therefore, now foresee no boom in either city or farm lands directly following the war. If, however, you plan to build a home in the suburbs of some city after the war you may well buy your land and make your plans now. Otherwise, perhaps you better wait until the postwar slump.

Another thing: Although inflation should sometime help the price of all real estate, yet during the next few years inflation will be only gradual as it has been during the past. It will take a violent inflation scare to boost real estate prices and such may not come until 1950-1955.

Newspaper Owners Ocean Beach Diners

County newspaper owners met at Glenn's cafe in Ocean Beach last Friday evening enjoying a delightful dinner and business session.

Present were the president of the San Diego county unit, California Publishers assn., Carlyle Reed of La Mesa and his pop, H. C. Reed; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Vurgason of the National City News, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Beck of the Oceanside Blade-Tribune, Mr. and Mrs. Shaw of the La Jolla Journal, Mr. and Mrs. Al Fairbrother of the La Jolla Light, Mr. and Mrs. Heber Hartvigsen of Ocean Beach News.

Ocean Beach Red Cross Campaign Cuff-Notes

With the old adage of—"March coming in like a lion" so started the Ocean Beach drive for the Red Cross to surpass all previous collections during this present campaign. Accounting for almost 50% of their district total sought, in the first week of the drive, Area Chairman Mrs. B. Stump and District Chairman Mrs. Morris Fried expressed satisfaction that the beach district would reach the goal before the "Month-of-the-Red-Cross" ended.

The whole-hearted support of the Kiwanis club and the Ocean Beach Women's club, together with many individual's cooperation has been a basis for establishing the local community's own motto in this mercy drive, "there can be no quota—only a goal—VICTORY."

The Kiwanis, under Chairman Burritt S. Mills has teamed together to canvass the business district of the beach town. The teams of Heber Hartvigsen-Glen Jones; Marc Strauss-Dan Moss; Milton Lancaster-Henry Holman; Rollin Reed-Levi Woodley; Earl Shaw-John Loftus; and Dr. Winton Oster-Dan Smith have met with early successes.

The Women's club has maintained a booth for collections in the Bank of America staffed by volunteer workers.

Mrs. Cheri Strauss has maintained a booth at the Ocean Beach postoffice for the Ocean Beach Women's club.

District captains, Mesdames Grace Rippee, C. H. Woolly, E. Haas, P. L. Oberhellman and Cheri Strauss have been assisted greatly by Mesdames L. Hansen, C. T. Hammond, C. W. Varney, J. T. Fischer, J. O. Plant, Ella Smith, Robert Carson, K. Rigg, W. Bodendeck, D. Klieman, C. Landry and Ann McConnell.

Sea Scouts Hear Talk On Guns, Safety, Etc.

Sea Scouts Ship 428 held their regular meeting Thursday, March 16th at the Pt. Loma Community church. As a special feature the boys heard an interesting talk by George W. Banks on the subject of guns, marksmanship, and safety with firearms.

The Sea Scouts are planning many more enjoyable meetings and will welcome any interested boys in Ocean Beach, 15 years of age and over, who would like to know more about this branch of senior scouting.

Don't forget that the Sea Scouts are still picking up scrap newspaper and magazines if you have a hundred pounds or more securely tied. Deliver smaller bundles to 1676 Cable st. Call B-5510 for pickup which will be on Saturday evenings as a rule.

EUROPE:
See Zero Hour

As the Axis radio dinned that the invasion of Europe could be expected at any day, huge fleets of heavy U. S. and British bombers escorted by fighter planes continued to pour fire and destruction on the enemy's industry and defense installations, with Berlin the No. 1 target.

Expecting the grandest amphibious assault in military history, the Nazi high command continued to boast of its steel and concrete coastal fortifications equipped with long and short range rocket guns, and, declaring the impending hostilities were to determine the future fate of Germany, insisted that they must fight it out in their deep defenses rather than make a wholesale retreat.

In Italy, strong armored German forces jabbed at stubborn U. S. and British lines on the Anzio beachhead below Rome, while heavy slush and snowfall slowed Allied advances on the bloody Cassino front, where bitter house to house fighting again was resumed after a long lull.

GREAT BRITAIN:
Coal Strikes

Laying down their tools in dissatisfaction over recent national wage adjustments which failed to take account of their work in excessive dust and water, an estimated 87,000 Welsh coal miners walked out of 156 pits and were joined by thousands in other English and Scottish fields as the government pondered taking over the properties.

Formerly, the Welsh were paid a weekly bonus of $1.20 or more in addition to their regular wage of $18.07 for working under unfavorable conditions, but when the government recently raised the minimum pay of all the nation's miners to $20, no adjustment was made in their compensation.

With war industries, railroads and special overseas shipping threatened, the government insisted the men return to their jobs before it moved to meet the Welshmen's demands, and also strove to iron out complaints of piece-workers that the new minimum wages gave straight-time miners producing less equal compensation.

War Production

Fully girded for war since the declaration of hostilities, Great Britain's bustling industrial machine has turned out 83,000 tanks, armored cars and gun carriers; more than 115,000 guns of more than 20 mm. caliber; nearly 5,500,000 machine-guns, rifles, submachine guns and automatic pistols; more than 1,000,000 vehicles and almost 90,000 aircraft.

With the U. S. producing the major bulk of the Allies' merchant shipping, British yards have concentrated on naval construction, with the result that His Majesty's fleet is greater now than at the beginning of the war.

Because of Britain's concentration on the production of heavy bombers, it has been able to supply three-quarters of the total structural weight of the Royal Air force, with the U. S. providing 18 per cent and British dominions 6 per cent of the remainder.

PACIFIC:
Big Base Crumbles

Once Japan's big nerve-center in the South Pacific, Rabaul, had become increasingly untenable for the enemy under the heavy fire of U. S. bombers and fighter planes.

Formerly a beehive of activity with Jap cargo ships carrying material into the port for transfer to smaller barges used to supply troops in the battle zones, U. S. fliers returning from raids over the New Britain base reported that big ships no longer could be seen.

Further demonstrating U. S. superiority in the area, American troops battling in the Admiralty islands to the north of Rabaul were supplied by cargo vessels sailing right into the fighting zone under protection of warships which encountered no resistance.

U. S. Interests

As high U. S. officials prepared for conferences with British leaders in London on America's postwar role in the Pacific, congress moved to appoint a 21-man committee to look into this country's military and economic interests in that part of the world in peacetime.

The whole question of America's future position of the Pacific was drawn into sharp focus with Australia's and New Zealand's declaration that these two countries are to be defensive centers for islands to their east and west, and use of any territories during time of war does not entitle a nation to claims or rights on them.

Not only is the U. S. concerned in the establishment of military bases in the Pacific for defensive purposes, but it also is anxious to provide equal opportunity for such American interests as airlines.

RUSSIA:
Race Against Thaw

As the Russians and Finns had exchanged peace terms, Red armies far to the south bit deeper into Nazi lines in the Ukraine. In headlong smashes designed to beat the fast-coming spring thaws, the Russians had scored significant break throughs aimed at German-held Black sea bases and poised further threats to the Nazi legions in the Dnieper bend.

Marshal Mannerheim

The Finns represented by Vaino Tanner had earlier insisted on restoration of the pre-war borders and declared they could not consider ejecting the Germans from the country without risking civil strife with Nazi sympathizers in the army, commanded by Field Marshal Mannerheim.

Vaino Tanner

Instead, the Finns had proposed to negotiate with the Germans for restoring their troops, either through Norway or neutral Sweden. Or if this failed, they had hoped merely to isolate the Nazis in the north.

SNOW BISCUITS

2 cups sifted flour
1½ teaspoons sugar
½ teaspoon salt
1 cake Fleischmann's Yeast
⅛ cup lukewarm water
1 tablespoon melted shortening

Sift together flour, sugar and salt. Dissolve yeast in lukewarm water. Add to dry ingredients. Add melted shortening. Dough will be soft. Turn out on floured board and knead dough quickly and lightly until smooth and elastic. Roll out ½ inch thick. Cut with floured biscuit cutter. Place on greased pan. Let rise until doubled in bulk, about ½ hour. Prick top with fork. Bake in hot oven at 425° F. about 20 minutes. Makes 16 two-inch biscuits. Serve hot with home-made jam, jelly or preserves for a supper dessert treat!

AN INDEPENDENT PAPER

NEW DAILY NEWSPAPER

San Diego's new daily newspaper, The San Diego Journal, made its initial appearance Friday last week and is well patronized by advertisers and filled with world and local news. We believe it will fill a need in this city which has become of metropolitan importance in recent years.

There has been much criticism of San Diego's newspaper monopoly, however, we know it is impossible to suit everyone. To some there has not been enough world news, to others not enough sports, financial or society, so the Los Angeles newspapers have built a far larger circulation in San Diego than they deserve. Then too it will be better if more consideration is shown patrons, both from a news view and an advertising standpoint.

Two dailies in San Diego, each striving to serve the whole city, without favor to clique or organizations can do a real service of community building.

We wish the San Diego Journal prosperous days ahead and trust the publishers will carry out their evidence of friendliness manifested in their first endeavor.

THE GAS DROUTH

The dry era has descended, leaving most automobile tanks so dry they whistle in the slightest breeze.

"A" ration gasoline stamps at the new 2-gallon-a-week limit are good for two grocery shopping trips, twice to the dentist or once to visit friends across town and half-way back.

Admittedly, the entire gasoline rationing system was set up on faulty lines depending too much on the unselfishness of individuals who were sure to be badly handicapped by the shortage.

The curtailment of legitimate gas, of course, won't bother those who shop in the black market. But we'd all feel kindlier about it if, some really effective official action were taken toward eliminating the black market operators who are draining 2,500,000 gallons a day from the restricted civilian supply.

The new cut, in effect, amounts to a penalty on good citizenship.

LET'S STICK TO THE JOB !

In spite of recurring strikes which have affected practically every war industry in all parts of the country in past months, the sincere desire of the vast majority of war workers to stick to their jobs has been stoutly maintained by men of insight and belief in their fellow men.

Recently a few workers themselves have summoned the courage to speak out in protest of unnecessary stoppages, and they are finding strong champions to back them. At San Diego this week, Justus Craemer, a foremost candidate for the United States Senate, reiterated his belief that workers in general are just as disgusted with walk-out orders in shipyards, machine shops and plane factories as their sons and brothers on the fighting fronts.

"I have talked with countless sound union men in the war plants," Craemer said, "men whose present position is similar to that of a G. I. in No-Man's Land without a fox-hole. Between the earned censure of service men if they do strike and the sure retribution of certain labor chiefs if they don't, their situation is pretty uncomfortable."

The Red Cross In Ocean Beach

By ONA E. PITCOCK

This week our center was saddened by the death of Mrs. Emma Rankin. Even up to the last cookie day she sent in her donation of cookies. We will miss her and our heart-felt sympathy goes out to her daughter.

I wonder if you realize that if every woman would carry a shopping bag that the paper saved would make all the cartons necessary to pack the blood plasma sent all over our fighting fronts. Don't forget this and carry a shopping bag at all times. It is the little things that help so much.

Will you please save all the buckles from men's belts for Red Cross. These belt buckles are sent to the rehabilization wards. The boys are now making belts, also, don't forget they want citrus fruits at the service men's club in Balboa park. It is made into fruit punch for the boys who are convalescing. The boys have served long months in foreign climates and need these juices. You can take them to the service men's club or call your local Red Cross center and they will be picked up. B-5639.

This week the Clyde A. Wright auxiliary made a nice donation of black ash trays and subscriptions to Liberty magazines to the hospital through our center. They will certainly be appreciated by those boys who are confined to beds and by the reading room.

Also I want to correct a mistaken rumor about junk jewelry. This is badly needed as are musical instruments. This jewelry is called barter jewelry and will be used as long as our boys are on foreign soil.

Don't forget Tuesday is cookie day. On Easter and Mother's day we hope to have a large donation.

Please call F-7704 and make an appointment to donate your blood to save a life.

Chamber Commerce Favors Curfew Law

The Ocean Beach Chamber of Commerce had their monthly meeting March 14. Several civic and community problems were discussed. The most important of them being a place for our 'teen-agers to go for recreation in the evenings. The Chamber having investigated and found that the old Davis building next to the police station is now owned by the city of San Diego. We feel at this time the whole community should get behind the Chamber and help to get this building improved and put into a suitable condition for supervised recreation. The Chamber is willing and feels there are other people in the community or organizations that are also willing to put some money in the fund toward improving this building. Anyone interested in a place for our juveniles to have supervised recreation, please call Bayview 3888 and talk with Mr. Greeson who has always urged a project along these lines.

Also the 10 o'clock curfew was discussed and it was decided the only way to enforce this curfew for juveniles is to enforce the law as it is written and fine the parents of the children who are repeatedly caught breaking this ordinance. Let's all get behind this ordinance and have a better place for our children to live, in which they will thank us all for in the future.

Do We Want Card Rooms

To learn the sentiment of Ocean Beach people in regard to card rooms or card games in pool halls the Ocean Beach News is asking the opinion of readers.

Just say whether you favor city licensed card rooms or not. You need not sign your name. Cut out and mail or place in mail slot of our office door at 1922 Bacon street.

I favor card rooms in Ocean Beach.

The Sea Scouts have taken on the job of getting scrap paper in to the salvage pile but want and are entitled to some help from householders.

Old newspapers and magazines must be tied in bundles and if you have more than 100 pounds they will be called for. If less than 100 pounds please deliver to 1676 Cable st.

Don R. McKenney is leader of the Sea Scouts, his phone number is Bayview 5510, which is the number to call when you have a good stack of old newspapers bundled up. You and your neighbor might join together to get the required amount if necessary.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

These words of the Psalmist are the Golden Text in the Sunday Lesson-Sermon on "Reality" in all churches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston: "The counsel of the Lord standeth forever, the thoughts of his heart to all generations."

"Master," asked the disciples in the Bible citation from John, "who did sin, this man, or his parents, that he was born blind? Jesus answered, Neither hath this man sinned, nor his parents: but that the works of God should be made manifest in him." And Jesus "spat on the ground, and made clay of the spittle, and he anointed the eyes of the blind man with the clay, And said unto him, Go, wash in the pool of Siloam, . . . He went his way therefore, and washed, and came seeing."

In "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" Mary Baker Eddy says: "Heredity is a prolific subject for mortal belief to pin theories upon; but if we learn that nothing is real but the right, we shall have no dangerous inheritances, and fleshly ills will disappear."

U. S. O.'S Musical Instrument Drive Aided by Public

Preliminary response in the U. S. O.'s county-wide appeal for musical instruments for overseas service men is gratifying, according to word received by Lloyd Greeson, chairman of the Ocean Beach unit, from San Diego U.S.O. council.

Included in the first contributions were two violins, three ukeleles, Victrola, guitar, saxophone, banjo, two drums and several harmonicas. These were given by citizens of San Diego. The total number to date will be substantially increased, it is believed, when reports are received from all county communities.

"This is the first campaign of the kind conducted by the U.S.O. any where in the nation, and its progress is being watched with interest by national U.S.O. headquarters," Mr. Greeson said. "That is one reason why we want it to be as successful as possible.

"The principal reason, however, is that our fighting men in the South Pacific, particularly those in isolated areas, are constantly asking for musical instruments, which help them to make up their own entertainment and diversion.

"Undoubtedly there are instruments of various kinds stored in closets or attics here for which the owners have little if any use. Contributed to the U.S.O., these will meet an urgent need. Citizens wishing to make such gifts are asked to leave them at the U.S.O. club."

Facing the Future

AN INTERESTING account in the thirteenth chapter of the book of Numbers relates the experiences of a group of people who were called upon by their leader to have faith in their future. These people, the Israelites, led by Moses had in the course of their journey away from the bondage in Egypt finally reached the land of Canaan. Spies were sent ahead to find out what kind of land it was. They learned many good things about it — that it flowed "with milk and honey," and withal was a place very much to be desired. But one condition of the land loomed up as a fearful thing in the eyes of the spies. "All the people that we saw in it are men of a great stature . . . and we were in our own sight as grasshoppers," they reported.

How often we, too, belittle our capacities and are "in our own sight as grasshoppers." And how much better to recognize the truth clearly stated on page 304 of "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, namely this: "Divine Principle is the Life of man. Man's happiness is not, therefore, at the disposal of physical sense."

The Israelites had experienced God's care for them many times in their journey to the promised land. They had seen the barrier of the impassable sea before them and the hordes of the armies of Pharaoh behind them; but the sea had parted and the armies had perished. They had been sustained with food and clothing in the wilderness, and had been kept free from disease, through God's ceaseless providence. They had indeed proved that man's happiness and well-being are not subject to the whims of physical sense testimony but are spiritual and spiritually maintained. But now, with the end of their journey at hand, they were doubting their further guidance and protection.

The Israelites were not deserted. Even in their beclouded sense of things, when spiritual reality seemed to them to be a distant unreality, they were supplied with the help that they needed at the moment. They had Moses, the Law-giver. Where they faltered, he upheld. When they were afraid of the future, he reassured them with God's gracious promises until they were able to say (Numbers 14:40), "Lo, we be here, and will go up unto the place which the Lord hath promised." History records that they did finally reach the land of Canaan and received the fruition of their labors.

Do we ever doubt what the future holds for us, even though we have seen ample evidence of divine guidance and divine protection? The Bible designates God by many names, but none carry more comfort to the struggling heart than the name of Love. Divine Love, creative and sustaining Principle, never forsakes man. In Genesis we read, "God saw every thing that he had made, and, behold, it was very good" (Genesis 1:31). It would be as impossible for God, the divine Love that made all good, including man, to cease His care of man as for the principle of mathematics eventually to withdraw its support of the idea that two times two equals four. . . .

So today, with our future yet to be drawn into the outlines of the present, let us accept God as He is, as divine Life, Truth, and Love, and admit no other power or presence. Let us heed the counsel of the Master, Christ Jesus (John 12:36), "While ye have light, believe in the light, that ye may be the children of light." Let us recognize that God, divine Love, guards us in all our experiences and His hand is our steady guide both now and ever. Sooner or later we must accept this conclusion; let us come to it early, yea, at once. Then shall we find not only the present good, but the future filled with promise.

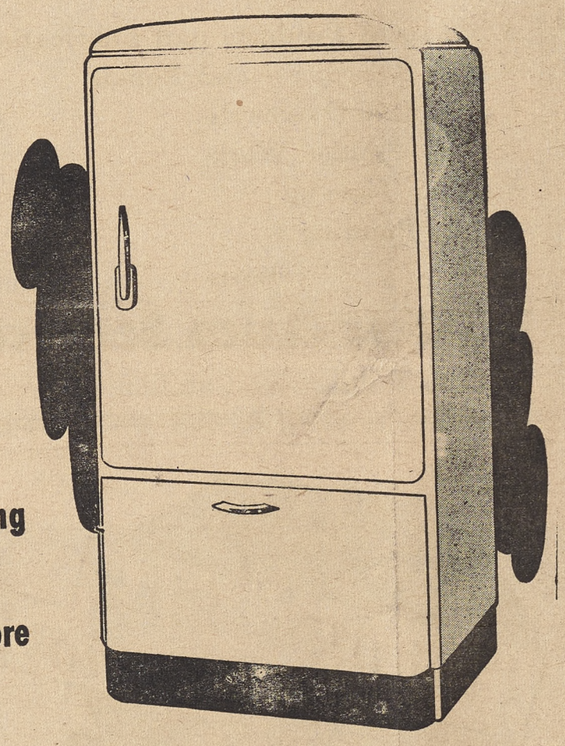
Do you Know?

1. Do you know the best way to prolong the life of your refrigerator?
2. Do you know the first thing to do before calling a service repairman?



NEVER has your refrigerator had more important work to do. It is on war duty protecting your health and conserving precious food at safe, low temperatures. Never has it been more important that you make sure your electric refrigerator will continue to serve you until victory and the day when new refrigerators will be sold again.

Answers:

1. "You can prolong the life of your refrigerator by defrosting frequently. A refrigerator that needs defrosting is working overtime." (See page 9, "War-Timely Guide to the Use, Care and Repair of Gas and Electric Home Appliances.")
2. "A surprisingly large number of refrigerator service calls are the result of loose connections of the refrigerator plug in the electric outlet. Make sure the plug is tightly connected; check the inside light to see if the refrigerator is getting current." (See page 10, War-Timely Guide to the Use, Care and Repair of Gas and Electric Home Appliances.")

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER

Authorities expect that Latin-American countries will contribute 35 to 40 thousand tons of crude rubber during 1944. In 1941 the U. S. and Canada used 800,000 tons of rubber, and current requirements are larger.

The Quartermaster Corps has developed a rubber and canvas Army boot for tropical wear. The sole contains both crude and reclaimed rubber, and is not affected by jungle moisture and soil chemicals.

Over seven billion passengers were transported by motor bus in 1942, compared with about four and a half billion in 1940, reflecting the curtailment of passenger car use by rubber conservation.

It may be caused by disorder of kidney function that permits poisonous waste to accumulate. For truly many people feel tired, weak and miserable when the kidneys fail to remove excess acids and other waste matter from the blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling. Sometimes frequent and scanty urination with smarting and burning is another sign that something is wrong with the kidneys or bladder.

LABOR'S SHARE IN INDUSTRY

SOME SIX YEARS AGO, in a hotel in Wilmington, Del., I picked up a printed annual financial statement of the DuPont company. It was unusual in its statements of the operations of the company. It gave the total amount of the year's sales, and showed in amounts and percentages the disposition and distribution of that total. The larger amount and the largest percentage went to labor; materials and taxes took considerable portions; it showed the amount and percentage that went to sales and office employees; the small amount and percentage that went to management and the small percentage that was passed along to the stockholders.

As I studied that report, its frank and understandable statement of receipts and disbursements, I could understand why the employees of the company, both in office and factory, were so loyal and enthusiastic in their praise of the company, as many had expressed themselves to me. That report showed the office and factory workers were receiving as their dividend a fair and just proportion of the returns from their work. I thought of what the result might be to American industry should all corporations issue the same kind of reports, and in such a way as to make them unquestionable.

I have received a somewhat similar statement from the Pullman Manufacturing company. The company is typical of those engaged throughout 1943 in the production of war equipment for the government. This report does not show, as did the earlier one issued by DuPont, the total sales and the amounts and percentages of distribution. It does show how each dollar of sales was distributed. The larger part, 62.32 cents of each dollar, was paid for materials. Of that a large proportion would have been paid for labor in the production and transportation of the materials. For the fabrication of those materials in the Pullman shops, factory labor received 21.92 cents of each dollar of sales; taxes, federal, state and local, 8.73 cents of each dollar; fuel, supplies and factory repairs cost 3.66 of each dollar; office employees and sales force received .64 of a cent and to pay for management took only .12 of a cent from each dollar. There were some other small items of cost and it left as profit for the stockholders, those whose money provided the buildings, tools and operating capital, much less than 2 cents of each dollar.

In all probability that showing is typical of most corporations engaged in the production of war supplies and it demonstrates the fairness of American business and the practicability of the American system. Such reports demonstrate that the dividend paid to labor is a fair share of the receipts of industry.

OPA FIXED CEILINGS AND PRICE OF WOOD

THE OPA tells us price ceilings are fixed to prevent an increase in the cost of living, especially for people of the cities and towns, and so prevent inflation. I recently had an illustration of how it works. Two years ago I bought wood for a fire place at a cost of $12 a cord. This year, when needing a new supply, a man offering the same kind of wood I had bought at $12 quoted a price of $23. I did not buy then but a few days later the price had gone up to $28 a cord. The $23 price had been fixed by, and was satisfactory to, the purveyors of wood. Then OPA put a ceiling of $28 on wood and the price immediately went up that extra $5. Both the price and I hit the ceiling, but I paid the $28. That, I found, is how the cost of living is reduced by OPA ceilings.

'UNCONDITIONAL SURRENDER' MEANS JUST THAT

UNCONDITIONAL SURRENDER means the surrender of everything with no questions asked. The one individual in Germany who can say the word for such a surrender is Hitler. To say that word means signing his own death warrant. It is doubtful if he will do that. The alternative is for the German army to remove the Austrian paperhanger, take over the government and then surrender. For that to happen there must be a revolt in the German army. That such a revolt will come is fairly evident. It may be in the immediate future, and it may be a year hence. There must be no letdown on the part of the Allies until it does happen and there will not be.

* * *

ITALY SURRENDERED UNCONDITIONALLY and many of the Italian people are eating and smiling again. They are now suffering only from the Germans. It is an example of what unconditional surrender can mean to the people of other satellite nations.

IF ANY of the Allied people, at home or abroad, go hungry, it will not be because of a strike on the part of the American farmers. They have stayed on the job regardless of provocation.

Friendly 'Enemies'

Technically, the United States of America and the Seminole Indians are at war. Seminole chiefs repudiated a treaty made in 1832 calling for removal of the whole tribe to Oklahoma.

Most of the tribe went to Oklahoma, but the diehards remained in the Florida everglades and have never formally made peace with the United States. Now, however, descendants of these diehards are doing a valuable bit for America's war program. Braves and their squaws are fighting a production battle in the heart of the everglades on 3,000 acres that will be used to produce quality beef.

Wearing her traditional costume, with the usual bead necklace, Ruby Jumper distributes para grass over the pasture land. This is her first job outside of keeping house in a wigwam.

According to a sugar company, which is employing the Seminoles, they are doing a good job on the company's pasture improvement program, which is expected to produce 1,500,000 pounds of dressed quality beef annually. Employment of the Indians leaves that many more persons free to work on sugar cultivation.

Above: Wearing their Seminole finery, these squaws work in the field. Seminoles make their own vivid-hued clothing. They balk at wearing regular work clothing and stick to their home-made garments. Left: Although he is the boss, Josie Billie does his share of the work. He is shown dumping some feed into the cattle pens. When the Indians came to Clewiston, they were offered modern cottages to live in. But they insisted that if they were to work, they would have to live in their own way, in their home-made native village.

Seminoles eat dinner in the open after a day's work in the field.

Gadgets Help in Giving Clothes Professional Press

There are several little gadgets which aid the homemaker in giving clothes a finished, professional-looking press.

One is a sleeve board. It is a big help for doing sleeves, shoulders, bias collars, and various places that are hard to "get at" with the iron. A sleeve-board is just a small-size ironing board that can be set up on and braced against your regular board.

For pressing armholes and other curved seams where a flat board makes the material wrinkle, a tailor's ham, which looks like an oval-shaped cushion, is useful. To make it, cut out two oval pieces of canvas about a foot long . . . six inches wide in the center, and tapering to two inches at each end. Stitch the two pieces together, leaving an opening large enough to put in a filling. Now, turn the ham inside out, stuff it tight with sawdust or scraps of cloth, and sew up the opening. The ham will press down as it's used, so more stuffing may need to be added from time to time.

Suggest Keeping Sows On Pasture or Hay

Bred sows or gilts should be kept on a good pasture or they should be fed green colored lespedeza, soybean, or alfalfa hay of good quality in a rack, say swine specialists.

For sows and gilts, it is recommended they be fed just enough grain to keep the animals in good flesh. Full feed a mineral mixture at all times. Thirty days before the pigs are born, it is good practice to hand feed a small amount of protein supplement daily.

After the pigs are 10 days old, the sows may be given all the grain and mineral mixture they want. About ½ pound of protein supplement can be hand fed to each sow daily. It is suggested a creep for the pigs, using shelled corn or ground grains in the trough.

Wean the pigs when they are 8 weeks old, leaving them on a green pasture and hand feed them a large ear of corn per head daily, it is suggested. Keep the mineral mixture before them in a dry place, and hand feed a small amount of protein supplement each day until the pigs weigh about 75 pounds.

Modern European City Rises From Grecian Port

When Greece freed herself from the Turks in 1830, the very name of Piraeus, the glorious port of Athens' Golden Age, was forgotten. The straggling fishing village on the site was called Porto Leone. Athens was made the capital of the new Greece, and the necessity for a large port was felt.

The modern city on the west-European plan, with wide, straight streets, was laid out. Spacious quays with all facilities were built in the large, land-locked harbor. Piraeus soon surpassed all other Greek ports. By 1940, it had 250,000 inhabitants and ranked fourth among all Mediterranean ports.

Before 1835, when its reconstruction started, the port's history is a blank as far back as 86 B. C. In that year Sulla, Roman general, destroyed Piraeus in the Roman conquest of Greece. The city had been destroyed before, but this time it lasted over 1900 years.

Acreage Loss

For 12 years from 1929 to 1940, United States farmers planted an average of 3,300,667 acres of potatoes a year but harvested only 3,236,834.

Flavor of Milk Varies Greatly Among Cows

Safety, good keeping qualities, cleanliness, proper food value, and good flavor are most desirable in high quality milk and milk products. From a selling standpoint, probably the most important of these is good flavor.

The flavor of milk varies greatly among cows, it is said. The amount of butterfat contained in the milk in relation to the sugar, protein, and ash it contains, will also affect the flavor. In the same way, the feed that a cow eats will be reflected in the milk she produces.

Some milk is inclined to a watery taste, even though it is fairly high in butterfat. And, the feed and fruit flavors may be evident in the milk from some cows, while that from other animals that have been fed the same diet will have little or none of the flavor defects, it is said.

If certain roughages are fed within five hours of milking, they are inclined to give an off-flavor to milk, it is pointed out. While such flavors are not as serious as those resulting from certain weeds, they detract from the quality of the product.

"The Lost Princes" To be Given March 30

A novel type of assembly program will be presented to the Pt. Loma high school student body on Thursday, March 30 at 9:10 and 9:50 a.m. Students in intermediate drama are now in rehearsals on the play "The Lost Princess," a comic-fantasy to be done in Chinese fashion. The entire program will be given as a friendly gesture to China and as a study for the entire student body in the Chinese theatre and its delightful type of fantasy and acting.

Legion Auxiliary Observes Founding Day

Happy Birthday to You:

That time-honored greeting usually is for an individual On this occasion, however, it is for the greatest organization — the American Legion.

Throughout the 58 departments and 11,995 post—birthday observances are in order

The auxiliary of Clyde A. Wright post held a birthday supper for their post and Old Town post. The affair being held at the hall, 1925 Abbott st., Saturday evening, March 18. Mrs. Harry G. Wright, mother of the post, purchased an enormous cake, which was presented to the commander, Daniel Moss, by the auxiliary president, Mrs. Myrtle Orrick. A lovely evening was had by those present.

One-year subscriptions to Liberty, Look, Popular Science, and Field and Stream, are being sent to a ward in Naval hospital, with funds raised on a cake raffle — combined with funds voted for that purpose at the auxiliary meeting held on March 16th. Some of those boys haven't seen a new magazine for two years while in action. They are shrapnel cases and many have limbs suspended — making the days long and dull without reading matter.

Within the next two or three weeks the votes on vital legislation will be counted in the senate and house—and the American Legion Omnibus Bill of Rights will stand or fall by those votes. Reports from overseas prove our fighting men are concerned about their future. We must send them assurance that by the passing of this bill they will receive:

1—Adequate hospitalization.
2—Prompt settlement of disability claims.
3—Mustering out pay — (law adopted after introduction of omnibus bill).
4—Opportunity to complete education.
5—Vocational training.
6—Employment opportunities.
7—Unemployment compensation.
8—Home, farm or small business purchase aid.
9—Board of appeal for reviewing discharges.
10—Placing of these functions in the veterans administration.

Good luck and best wishes to the American Legion.

THE STORY THUS FAR: Lieut. Col. Frank Kurtz, Flying Fortress pilot, tells of that fatal day when the Japs struck in the Philippines. Eight of his men are killed fleeing for shelter and Old 99, his favorite Flying Fortress, is demolished before it can get off the ground. They escape to Australia, spend Christmas day there, and shortly after General Brereton orders them to take the bombers to Java. From there they start on flight for Davao, in the Philippines. They see a great concentration of ships below them—a Pearl Harbor set-up, but fighters come up and ack-ack gets hot. They make the bomb run, the bombs are flicked out one by one, the bombardier shouts "bombs away," and they turn and speed for home.

CHAPTER IX

"I poured on every ounce of power we had, and was about to turn for the getaway when I saw, just in time, that old Jim, who had dropped his bombs before I did, had already started his turn to get off the target a few seconds before me.

"The next thing I did was to call down to the bombardier and the navigator to come on up and tell me what we'd done to the Japs.

"They said it had been a sight to watch. A few of the Jap cruisers and destroyers had managed to get under way, and their wakes laced the water in great spirals and sworls as they tried to dodge the bombs. Aside from these few, they said, we'd caught the Japs absolutely flat-footed. If there had been enough of us, we could have blown a chunk out of their fleet they would never have recovered from.

"As it was, they had watched four direct hits on a Jap battleship, seen pieces of debris flying in every direction and smoke starting to billow up. In addition to this, our squadron had sunk three smaller craft—two cruisers and a transport.

"They said our bomb pattern had churned the whole area white with spouts of foam, and what few ships had their power up were running around like crazy. They said thousands of skilled personnel had been killed or drowned, and also that we had torn hell out of the dock workers and docks at Davao Harbor.

"Only I don't have time to gloat long, for something approaching us from ahead catches my eye through the windshield. It's practically flying our course and our altitude, except that it's off to the left. But am I seeing a ghost? It can't be what I think it is, a Messerschmitt 110, the kind that Ernst Udet told me all about in Berlin when I visited there in 1934. There can't be a Messerschmitt 110 in this hemisphere, but what else could it be with that split tail?

"He doesn't alter his course and I don't alter mine; and after he's passed the point where I could set up a collision course with him, I begin to come to my senses, to realize that I'm the pilot of a Flying Fortress and my job is to get home safely with these boys and this plane, which was never designed to engage in dogfights with Messerschmitts.

"We got back to Malang feeling pretty pleased with ourselves," said Frank, "and I personally felt I had made headway settling my old Philippine score. But in Java we found there were troubles ahead, and the least of these was that our Navy was accusing us of bombing their ships. They didn't say any of them had been hit, just that they'd had to beat off an attack, and it occurred to me that this might explain all those fireworks which came whooping up under our chins through the overcast that night over the Celebes Sea. But we were never sure.

"So we said, 'Then why don't you tell us where your ships are going to be?' but it seemed that had never been done—a ruling from the Navy Department in Washington. I guess those guys must take some kind of a bomb-sight oath never to tell anything to anybody who doesn't wear black shoes.

"But plenty more was going on. It developed that our smash at the Jap fleet in Davao had been almost too successful. Because Davao was no longer a safe base for them, they had apparently boosted up their schedule by two or three weeks. Our reconnaissance went clear up to the Davao area and reported nothing there; then we found out the whole gang had moved out together and they were off the coast of Borneo, moving down into Macassar Strait, and it was clear they intended to clean out Borneo—not only because of our advance bases there, but because they wanted the rich oil fields at Tarakan and Balakpapan on the eastern coast of Borneo, where the oil is so rich they say you can pump it right into the bunkers of ships. Of course they'd built up big oil reserves which they had bought from us before Pearl Harbor, but now they were out to grab off some fields of their own.

"And who was going to stop them? It was up to us to try, because we seemed to be the only force the United Nations had in that area big enough to tackle the Jap fleet.

"We were briefed before dawn—told everything that was known about this big Jap gang of ships off northeast Borneo—and at 6:30 in the morning nine of us took off from the Malang Field. We planned to fly over the Java Sea and then inland over Borneo, carrying to start with an altitude of about 9,500 feet. But about eight o'clock we hit a tropical front which was a nightmare—fog so dense you could hardly see to light the tip of your cigarette.

"When we saw it coming ahead, each V spread out a little, so we wouldn't collide. Only we didn't dream how dense and how long it was going to be.

"It was like trying to fly inside a giant bale of cotton—so dense that when you looked out at the side you could barely see your own wing tips. And looking straight ahead, that bale of cotton seemed tightly packed against your windshield, only it was a dull flat gray-white, like the cotton I imagine they'd spin winding sheets out of. And you'd stare into the windshield, trying to see how close you were to your wing man, but there would only be that flat white, squeezed tight against your windshield, muffling everything. Then all of a sudden, the wing of the plane ahead would come surging into view out of that winding sheet, so terribly big and close that you would frantically jerk back all four throttles to cut your power, and begin fishtailing your rudder to slow the big brute down a little, praying that by this you'd miss crashing into the plane ahead at least by a few yards.

"We'd been fighting through it on instruments, because inside that cotton bale you couldn't see stars or ocean, and it took so much hard flying that I was having my co-pilot handle the power for me. If I thought I was dropping behind the rest, maybe I would get lost and have to go over the target alone, which by now we knew was a dangerous business, I'd say to him, 'All right, give me a little more mercury now—about four inches.' Then when I'd catch a glimpse of the plane ahead I'd say: 'Okay, now you can bring it back to thirty inches. We're sitting okay—I can see him fine.' And I could for a minute or so.

The gallant Dutch are burning up their Borneo oil fields.

"Without warning I break into the clear. I haven't climbed over that cloud, but instead have flown out of one of the walls of an enormous cloud canyon and am now flying around in the clear air between the precipices.

"Ahead of me looms the other canyon wall. Maybe it's thirty miles away, maybe fifty—you can't ever judge the distance of a cloud, because they don't come in standard sizes. But cloud canyons like this one are one magnificent sight that you never see any place except in the high skies.

"Because, you see, the morning sun was slanting down from behind me, over the top of the canyon wall out of which I had just come, to hit the top half of the cloud-canyon wall ahead. That top half might have been built out of burnished silver feather beds piled one on top the other, and yet you looked again and it seemed to be so firm it could be carved of glistening ice or marble.

"I am wondering if old Jim is also looking at all this when suddenly his voice comes out of nowhere into my earphones.

" 'Connally to Kurtz,' he is calling.

" 'Kurtz answering Connally,' I say.

" 'Have you broken into the clear yet?' he asks.

" 'Into the clear, Jim, at 14,500. Now I'm turning onto 270 degrees.' That means I'm turning west to fly down that canyon to see if I can't catch sight of Jim, whose voice is so loud in my ears. Suddenly I see a single Fortress ahead there in the canyon. I pick him up when the reflecting sun hits his uptilted wing. He is circling.

" 'I think I see you, Jim,' I call. 'Continue to circle.' I head toward the plane and fall in on its wing, continuing the long slow circle inside the canyon in the hope we'll pick up some of the others, and won't have to go in on the target alone. Meanwhile the radio operators of the two planes have started talking to each other by winking their Aldis lamps back and forth. We're so near the target I don't want to use the radio any more than necessary. And just then I spot a third plane—about 500 feet below us and farther west down the canyon. Just as I'm wondering which one it is, my radio operator reports that the plane we're circling on isn't Jim at all, it's Bill Bohnaker. So we drop on down the canyon and sure enough, that third plane turns out to be old Jim. I can read his number plain now on his tail. Now there are three of us in the circle, wondering what in hell has become of the other six. We haven't got the gas to stay in this golden dream castle much longer. But just then my radio operator comes in with a message from Combs, the leader. God knows where he is, but he's telling us, 'Continuing to target,' and he's sending it out by key, where he can use code, because he daren't use voice so close to the target as he must by now be, because most of these damn Zero pilots seemed to have graduated from Los Angeles High School and understand English as well as you do.

"All right, continue it is, so now we plunged back into that damned front—the opposite canyon wall—and the gray mist packed down around my windshield again. We continued to climb in that deathly whiteness—first one wing and then the other surging into my view. I flew it for forty-five minutes and decided it was just too much to risk crashing into each other when we were so close to the target. So without any message to Jim or Bill I decided I'd spread out. I flew 45 degrees for thirty seconds, then back thirty more seconds, and then continued on the old course—flying on instruments, of course. But now that we were staggered both in altitude and in interval, it wasn't so bad.

"Finally we broke out into the clear at 27,000 feet at a quarter after ten and discovered we had lost interval only by a very little. But I was groggy—we'd been on oxygen for four and a half hours already.

"But the weather was still playing tricks. Now the mist was coming in great tufts, thicker than cotton wadding, while below us was a thin layer of overcast.

"We were getting close to the target now. Should we climb higher? There wasn't much point, because if we did, that overcast layer might thicken so that we couldn't see the target, and we'd have to come down below it to unload.

"But where's Bill Bohnaker? I look back and see that he's very slowly peeling off. I wonder why. Probably supercharger trouble. Then I think to myself, 'There he goes, and I'd hoped maybe at least three of us could go in together.' Because in my mind is that rain-check idea—the score isn't settled yet, and if that target is open at all, I've made up my mind I'm going in. And I think to myself, 'Here we go again, Jim, just you and me.'

"About this time I hear a gunner on Combs' ship—they've broken radio silence, which means they're on the target—saying, 'Lots of enemy fighters sighted!'

"But they're still far ahead, out of sight. Here we are again, in a staggered attack—the stragglers to bear the brunt of what the first flights stir up. We ought to know better, but still I'm going on in.

"The weather gets crazier and crazier—these enormous tufts not stratified at all, but floating around at almost any altitude. And my co-pilot seems to be fascinated by a big black one that isn't shaped quite like a thunderhead. It might be one of those Dakota tornado funnels, only it doesn't revolve.

"Then suddenly he says, staring at it: 'Hell, Frank, that isn't a cloud at all—look!' I follow his finger, and down at the base of that cloud, on the ground, is a crackling, flaming oil field! The gallant Dutch are scorching the earth for fair—burning up their Borneo oil fields right in the face of the advancing Japs, millions of dollars' worth of it. Imagine all of East Texas crackling and pouring black smoke into the sky.

"We can't stop to watch a billion dollars go up in black smoke. The Dutch are doing their job and we have ours, which just now is scanning for fighters. I realize that in this weather and so close to the target they might be anywhere, only for some reason I never think of them when my No. 1 starboard engine starts jumping around in its mount, rattling the whole plane.

"I only curse my luck and ask, 'If we were going to have engine trouble, why in hell couldn't it have been on the way home instead of now, when we're about to begin our run over the target?'

"I watch the oil pressure drop sickeningly, and still it doesn't dawn on me what hit that motor. I'm just sore at it for letting me down. And also, what will I do—nurse it along by feathering it, or see if I can't give it maybe 1,000 RPM's (revolutions per minute), while I push the other three up to 2,600?

For Your Dinner—Broiled Chuck Steak
(See Recipes Below)

Thrifty Meats

Food budgets require the hands of experts these days so they don't run away with themselves.

Scan the columns of your newspapers and the prices at your butchers and you'll notice many economical cuts of meat that are just packed full of flavor if you cook them properly. It's not at all strange to find favorite foods in your family that are very inexpensive to prepare. But all of them illustrate one important fact: the cook who prepares the food knows what she's working with and what to do with it to have it at its best.

Make sure that all of your platters look attractive before you set them on the table. We still eat with our eyes first—and what's good to look at will disappear fast!

Save Used Fats!

Did you ever think of spreading chuck steak with grapefruit butter? No? You'll find it tenderizes the meat and gives it delightful flavor:

Broiled Chuck Steak.

Preheat broiling oven 5 to 10 minutes. Grease broiler rack. Wipe meat with cloth, sprinkle both sides with salt and pepper and spread with grapefruit butter, made by blending grapefruit juice and butter in equal proportions. Place on rack and broil 2 to 3 inches below heat. Sear steak on both sides with high heat, reduce and continue cooking, turning occasionally. For a rare steak 1½ inches thick, allow 12 to 15 minutes per pound. Increase time for medium and well-done steaks.

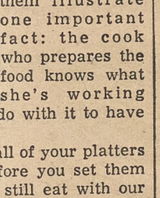
Save Used Fats!

Pork is low in price and fairly low in point value. It's a go-together with dressing made with apples:

Pork Chops With Apple Stuffing.
(Serves 6)

6 thick pork chops
1 slice salt pork, diced
½ cup bread crumbs
2 teaspoons finely chopped parsley
3 tart apples, diced
¼ cup chopped celery
¼ cup chopped onion
¼ cup sugar
Salt and pepper

Have pork chops cut 1 to 2 inches thick with a pocket cut from the inside. Fry diced salt pork until crisp, add celery and onions and cook until tender. Add the diced apples and sprinkle with sugar, cover and cook slowly until they are tender and glazed in appearance. Add bread crumbs and season. Stuff pork chops with stuffing. Season chops with salt and pepper and brown on both sides in a hot skillet. Reduce heat, add a few tablespoons of water and cook slowly until done, about 1 hour.



Save Used Fats!

Spaghetti and Ham Ring.
(Serves 6)

1 cup spaghetti, uncooked
3 eggs
¼ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
2 teaspoons onion, grated
2 cups ground cooked ham
2 tablespoons shortening
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
½ cup milk

Break spaghetti into small pieces and cook in boiling, salted water until tender. Melt shortening in frying pan and then add ground ham and sear until lightly browned. Beat eggs slightly, add salt and pepper, Worcestershire sauce, grated onion, milk and browned ham and bake in a moderate oven (325 degrees) in a ring mold, for 35 minutes. Turn onto platter, garnish with parsley and fill center with a green vegetable.

Save Used Fats!

Liver With Vegetables.
(Serves 6)

1 pound beef or calves' liver
2 tablespoons drippings
2 tablespoons flour
⅛ teaspoon paprika
½ teaspoon salt
2 large potatoes, diced
1 stalk celery, diced
4 carrots, diced
1 onion, chopped
1½ cups tomato juice
½ cup water

Cut liver into squares and roll in flour, salt and paprika; brown in drippings. Add vegetables and liquids and allow to simmer until vegetables are tender. Transfer cooked meat and vegetables to a baking dish and season with salt and paprika. Make gravy using liquid from cooked meat. Pour gravy over meat. Place crust of biscuit dough on top of mixture and bake in a hot oven until biscuits are done.

If you don't like heart, it's probably because you have never tasted it well seasoned and thoroughly cooked. Try this:

Baked Stuffed Heart.
(Serves 6)

3 to 4-pound beef heart
2 slices bacon
1 cup fine bread crumbs
½ teaspoon poultry seasoning
1 small onion
Salt and pepper
Flour for dredging
Fat for browning

Wash heart and remove enough of center portion to permit stuffing. Dice bacon and fry until crisp. Combine with bread crumbs, diced onion and salt and pepper. Fill cavity of heart with stuffing and fasten with skewers. Roll in flour and brown quickly in hot fat in skillet or heavy kettle. Add beef stock, chicken stock or water. Cover and cook slowly 2 to 2½ hours in a moderate oven until tender. Thicken liquid for gravy, if desired.

The Score Card: Butter your bread carefully. Most households will average about 11 pounds per person per year—much less than what we're accustomed to.

Don't feed your garbage pail the vitamin C from citrus fruits in the form of peel. There are about three times as much of the vitamin in the peel as in pulp and juice. Peeling may be used in sauces, spreads, fruits, marmalade or candy.

Another vitamin C story tells us that when vegetables are dehydrated in the presence of natural gas rather than air, they have 100 per cent vitamin C retension.

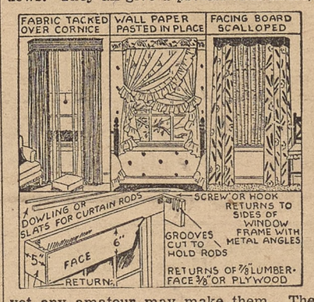
Dehydrated carrots, onions and sweet potatoes will probably be tasted before this year is out.

Have plenty of ham 'n eggs these days. Both pork and egg supplies are good.

Three Ways to Use Wooden Cornices

ELABORATE box-like cornices to cover all rods and fixtures used in hanging curtains were the height of fashion in the formal rooms of the mid-Victorian period. Cornices are still used in simplified forms for our own windows.

This sketch shows three different treatments of box cornices for modern windows. They all give a professional effect,



FABRIC TACKED OVER CORNICE
WALL PAPER PASTED IN PLACE
FACING BOARD SCALLOPED
DOWLING OR SLATS FOR CURTAIN RODS
SCREW OR HOOK RETURNS TO SIDES OF WINDOW FRAME WITH METAL ANGLES
GROOVES CUT TO HOLD RODS
5"
6"
FACE
RETURN
RETURNS OF ¾ LUMBER. FACE ⅜ OR PLYWOOD

yet any amateur may make them. The diagram shows grooves cut on the inside of the returns to hold wooden rods or slat to be used instead of metal rods for hanging glass curtains and overdraperies. If you already have double curtain rods, just leave them in place and fit your cornice over them. If you decide to paint the wood instead of covering it, the color may match the room woodwork or it may repeat some color in the drapery material, as shown at the right.

* * *

NOTE: This is the fourth and last of the series on modern adaptations of period curtain styles. If you are interested in making scalloped wooden cornices you will want pattern 207 which contains designs of scallops which may be used to cut dozens of different types to fit windows of any size. Admirals may be admirable, but that isn't where the word comes from. It comes from an old Arabic word "amir-al" meaning "commander of." That's what the Admiral is, the top-ranking officer in the Navy. Top-ranking cigarette with our Navy men is Camel—the favorite, too with men in the Army, Marines, and Coast Guard, according to actual sales records from their service stores. Camels are a top-ranking gift, too. And though there are Post Office restrictions on packages to overseas Army men, you can still send Camels to soldiers in the U. To Promptly Relieve Coughing and Make Breathing Easier

Whenever the Dionne Quintuplets catch cold—their chests, throats and backs are immediately rubbed with Musterole—a product made especially to promptly relieve coughing, sore throat and tight, aching chest muscles due to colds. Musterole actually helps break up local congestion in the upper bronchial tract, nose and throat.

Musterole gives such wonderful results because it's what so many Doctors and Nurses call a modern counter irritant. Since it's used on the famous "Quints"—you can be sure it's just about the BEST cold-relief you can buy!

IN 3 STRENGTHS: Children's Mild Musterole for children and people with tender skin; Regular for ordinary cases and Extra Strong for stubborn cases.

Wounded Saved

Of the U. S. army wounded, 96.5 per cent are saved; of the navy, 96.8 per cent; of the marines, 96.9 per cent. Our medical corps is doing a fine work saving the lives of our wounded.

"ALL-BRAN WORKED WONDERS FOR ME!"
Says Constipation Sufferer

There's real hope for common constipation sufferers in this unsolicited letter!

"Thanks for what KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN has done for me. I'm 75 years old. Had been taking pills and salts almost every night. 6 weeks ago, I started eating KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN every morning. Soon I had regular movements without any trouble. I can't praise ALL-BRAN enough. It sure works wonders for me." Mr. E. C. Zook, Box 114, Fairbury, Ill.

How can such amazing results for thousands be explained? Scientists say it's because KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is one of Nature's most effective sources of certain "cellulosic" elements, lack of which in the diet is a common cause of constipation. They help the friendly colonic flora fluff up and prepare the colonic wastes for easy, natural elimination. KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is not a purgative. Doesn't "sweep you out"! It's simply a gentle-acting, "regulating" food.

If you have constipation of this type, eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN regularly with milk and fruit, or mixed with other cereals. Drink plenty of water. See if you, too, don't get real help! Insist on genuine ALL-BRAN, made only by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

Beachhead, Bridgehead

A beachhead is a position established and fortified on a shore by an invading force. A bridgehead is a defensive area on the enemy's side of a stream, held to guard a bridge, ford or other crossing.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Noorda and family have moved from 5005 Newport ave. to 1825 Sunset Cliffs blvd.

MOVES NEXT DOOR

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Gardner sold their home, 4851 Santa Monica ave., which they purchased two and a half years ago, and have moved into a larger house next door. Mr. Gardner, Safeway manager at 25th and Imperial, agrees with his wife and family that Ocean Beach is still the best place to maintain a home.

The new home-owners are Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Ray Iles and their young daughter.

U.S.O. CLUB PARTIES

St. Patrick's dance held at the local U.S.O. club was a success. Wednesday night's bingo parties are proving popular.

On Sundays from 6 to 7 p.m., a cold buffet supper will be served, followed by entertainment. Senior hostess and cookies are needed.

INTERESTING MUSIC HOUR

Mrs. George I. Springer has arranged an interesting program of recordings for Sunday afternoon listening pleasure at the YWCA music hour. The program begins at 5 o'clock each Sunday and is followed by a social hour and refreshments. The public is invited.

This Sunday's program will include selections from "The Chocolate Soldier," Debussy's "Claire de Lune," the "Brahms Symphony No. 4 in E Minor," and a condensation of Verdi's "Il Trovatore," the Meditation from "Thais," and Victor Herbert's "March of the Toys" will close the program.

Mrs. Springer, who arranges and interprets the musical programs, is planning special music for Palm Sunday and Easter afternoons.

"I Want You to Know"

The poem given below was recently read over an army sponsored radio station in the Aleutians just before sign-off time, and called for a number of requests for copies by those who heard it. It is a sincere expression of love and respect for those left behind and well worth keeping.

V . . .

I Want You to Know when things go wrong
I Want You to Know that all along,
Someone remembers, someone cares
Whatever the load the burden shares.
Whatever you do or whatever you say
I Want You to Know that all the way,
Someone believes, believes although others may doubt
I Want You to Know.

I Want You to Know when we're far apart
When I cannot speak to you heart to heart,
Whatever the rest may say or do
I Want You to Know My Faith is true.
I Want You to Know that come what will
In the deepest valley, or the highest hill
That the things I say to you now are so,
And so forever, I Want You to Know.

I Want You to Know in the afteryears,
In time of worry, in time of fears
Although the plains or the sea divide
I still am standing, your soul beside,
The way is far and the voice is dumb
I cannot speak and to you cannot come,
And perhaps my love will not help you so
But, if it will, I Want You to Know.
